Cycle Races Are Closest In Years

Some of the closest races in years are shaping up for the 1966 American Motorcycle Association competition at Ascot Park. Next outing is Friday night.

Casper (Good) Grief, Ron Kruseman, Pete Bodette, Joe Schmidt and Larry Shipman are locked in a scramble for the amateur lead. The race is so close that a rider could pick up several places by winning a main event.

The novice division is even closer, with Marty McDonald, Don Roberts and Larry Pruett within a few points of each other. Here the race is so close that a rider can move from third to first by winning next Friday's main event.

Only in the expert division is there a clear-cut leader—Sammy Tanner. The "Flying Flea" is well out in front of second-place Dan Haaby.

But there is a real struggle for second between Haaby and Ralph White.

And there is another battle for fourth, with Mert Lawwill, Elliott Schultz and Guy Louis the antagonists.

When you finish cutting your garment, the new Better Homes and Gardens Creative Sewing Library suggests you lay out the cut-out pieces of the garment on a table so you will have a visual picture of how the assembled garment will look.

Top 10 Race At Ascot Park

A three-day duel for the 1966 California Racing Association Indianapolis-type sprint car driving title will highlight tonight's 8-event CRA racing program at Gardena's Ascot Park.

Racing Director Johnnie Parsons has gathered the top 10 drivers in the CRA point standings for the evening's action.

Topping the point race is Don Thomas of El Cajon, driving his own Chevrolet V8-powered mount. He has won four CRA features this year. Thomas has 599½ points, giving him a 61½ point lead.

Out to steal the number one spot is Paul Jones of Torrance, winner of two CRA 100-lappers this year at Ascot in his Offenhauser powered car. Jones has 538 points, despite going East to race with USAC in June.

Number three driver in the point fight is Frank Secrist of Bakersfield, who has 526 points and one CRA main event so far this season. Secrist, like Thomas drives a Chevrolet V8-powered car.

Kiwanis Game Set Aug. 15

Kiwanis' 27th annual benefit baseball game between the champion Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds will be played Monday night.

The game will benefit hundreds of southern California crippled and underprivileged children who receive care and treatment from Kiwanis-sold tickets to the game.

ON STAGE . . . Margaret Middleton and Ed Carey (standing) embrace while their partners, Roger Elliott and Julie Bradley, enjoy a drink during a scene from "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" The play, now in its fourth weekend at Chapel Theatre, has been seen by capacity crowds. It will continue through Aug. 20. No one under 18 will be admitted.

'Virginia Woolf' Drama To Continue at Chapel

By BETTY SCHROEDER

Chapel in the past two years. Standing room only is the rule at Chapel Theatre these days, as the theatre group begins its fourth weekend of performances of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

The play, most recently made into a motion picture, has been the subject of controversy since it was first staged in New York in 1962.

Lou Bruhnke of Hermosa Beach has turned Edward Albee's script into a compelling and absorbing drama. Bruhnke has directed and acted in several productions at Chapel Theatre is located at 4164 W. Pacific Coast Hwy.

Carnival, Variety Show To Be Aquacade Feature

Where in the world can you get a tour of the world and outer space in a brief span of two hours?

The Torrance Recreation Department plans just that for food and games.

A major attraction of the Carnival will be the all-city variety Show which begins at 6 p.m. This show consists of performers chosen from previous Sunday Showcases held at the park.

THE MAD Hatters, consisting of Stephanie Irving, accordionist, and Jeanie Shaper, clarinetist, will be appearing Friday night along with Bob Beach, tumbler; Karla Crouse, toe tap dancer; Terri Joe Edwards, majorette; and the Obnoxious Ones, a folk singing group consisting of Karen Barr, Vickie Ropp, Laura Fluck, and Colette Eisele.

The Carnival and Variety Show precede the 11th Annual Aquacade, "Where in the World," which begins at 8:30 p.m.

Hole-in-One

Carl Halbert made his first hole-in-one in a long career of golf by sinking the seventh hole at Hackers' Haven with a No. 9 iron.

In tournament play at the course junior winners were Don Baker, first; Bill Carlson, second; and Bill Bullock.

In the senior tournament first went to Chet Bush, followed by Randy Carson, John Arnold and C. M. Nelson.

Junior-senior winners were Tony Frye and Jim Weir, Al Coast and Carl Peterson, and George Bonozo and Gordon Mahon.
